IDC Government Insights: China Digital Twin in Public Sector Strategies

China's digital twin market is in a state of acceleration; more and more enterprises and government agencies have begun to apply Smart City digital twin technology to their own business. IDC Government Insights: China Digital Twin in Public Sector Strategies encompasses detailed analysis of digital twin technology trends in the China public sector.

Approach

This program will have an analysis focusing on China Smart City digital twin market based on specific use cases.

Topics Addressed

Throughout the year, this service will address the following topics:

- Smart City digital twin technology development trend
- Smart City digital twin best practices
- City information modeling platform market analyst
- Digital twin visual rendering technology analyst

Key Questions Answered

Our research addresses the following issues that are critical to your success:

1. Which industries will be changed by technological innovation?
2. Who are the key vendors in Smart City digital twin?
3. What is the influence of different technological routes on the development trend of Smart City digital twin?
4. What new opportunities exist in Smart City digital twin?
5. What strategies are effective in expanding the market?

Who Should Subscribe

Systems integrators (SIs), ISVs, IT infrastructure suppliers, platform service and software suppliers, AI tech suppliers, IT security suppliers, government ICT and business planners and departments, and investment institutions.